

[Club Activities]

Cheerleading is very popular in American high schools. Cheerleaders go to many places such as gyms, football fields, and baseball stadiums in order to lead organized cheering at various sports events. Cheerleaders are also considered to be athletes because they not only cheer their team on but they also have to do hard exercises like gymnastics. At some small sized schools, they sometimes act as managers, too.