

[School Uniforms ]

These two boys are students in a high school in Belfast, Northern Ireland. They are doing some experiments about electricity in their science class. They seem to be interested in the experiments. The black blazers and the red and white ties are their school uniforms.